HalfMoon Chair is for Batman

Posted March 20th, 2008 by Alex Ion

Designer Louis Saul is responsible for building the HalfMoon Chair, which as you can see from this angle looks like the place where Batman watches movies, doesn't it? Another point of view is that the Batman chair has a skeleton-like design with cushions made from bright orange sponge rubber. Looks a lot like six-pack abs, doesn't it? Oh, last thing I like is that the chair has storage space for books. I wonder if Batman was reading books ...
